The Spirit of Christmas

Background

Is Christmas celebrated everywhere in the world? Perhaps not everywhere.

There are probably some tribes in the Amazon rainforest, or in the jungle of Borneo, who do not know about Christmas. And there are many countries where Christmas (or Xmas) is not a holiday, but in most countries people enjoy Christmas time, and images of Santa, reindeer and snowmen can be seen all around.

Christmas celebrates the birth of Jesus Christ, the Son of God. It is not known if December 25th is the true day of Christ's birth, but this is the day that was chosen in the 4th century, and is now a holy day when Christians around the world go to church.

There are many customs associated with Christmas: sending cards, decorating the Christmas tree, hanging a Christmas stocking, the traditional meal, and gift-giving. Family members and close friends give gifts to each other. Nowadays children expect several gifts from their parents, and it can be very stressful to find suitable presents for everyone. More money is spent at Christmas than any other time of year.

But it is the Christmas spirit which is most important of all; a time of happiness, a time of friendship, and a time of peace.

The Nativity, Joseph's Story

Joseph was worried, very worried .....

① when he arrived in Bethlehem.

④ and this baby was the Son of God.

⑦ Joseph lived in Nazareth, but his family originally came from Bethlehem, about 150km to the south,

⑩ Joseph went to every inn, but they were all full.

⑬ In this stable, watched by a cow and a donkey, the Son of God was born,

⑯ Later that night an angel appeared to three shepherds on a hillside,

⑲ They were filled with joy when they saw the baby.

⑳ He must look after and protect the baby Jesus and Mother Mary.

㉕ The star shone above the stable in Bethlehem.

㉘ a special baby who would one day become a king.

㉚ An angel sent a message to Joseph in a dream, telling him to leave Bethlehem and go to Egypt.

㉜ and Joseph continued his work as a carpenter,
