

TASK

Write an article to share your thoughts and feelings about a recent holiday destination you visited or describing an imaginary tourist experience in a place you know well

Your article should:

- Share information about your experience
- Give a descriptive snapshot of the place
- Explain the environmental situation and the effects of tourism
- Detail what's being done (or not) to protect the place and its ecosystem – you could briefly mention what you'd like to see happen

Try to:

- Write 220-260 words
- Write a well-structured text that catches the reader's attention and makes them want to read
- Write in a friendly and informal style
- Try to use a range of rich, authentic language (collocations, adjectives etc)
- Try to question your reader and ask for their response
- Finally, don't be afraid to be provocative or controversial.

An attention grabbing title

1 Engaging intro

2 A vivid description of the location & geographical features.

3 Describe problems you faced / negative feelings due to tourism & environmental destruction

4. What kind of protests and actions have there been? Should there be? Do you know of any similar situations?

5 Perhaps, reflect on the 'bigger picture' or central dilemma of tourism

6 A snappy conclusion
