

22nd October

to fall into a pit (hole in the ground)

to break through (a barrier)

to implement an idea/policy (put in place)

Greetings:

hi! hello.

good / morning
afternoon
evening

good day

register ((in) formal)

pleased to meet you

Ciao, see you (later).

take care

informal

have a good/nice day

goodbye

neutral

pleased to have met you formal

/ˈdaɪnɪŋ/

dining

dinner

/ˈdɪnə/

long vowel, one consonant

table

short vowel, double

consonant

5 Pronunciation

Adding stress to key words can make the advice stronger.

e.g. You should never put your hands in your pockets

/nɜː/

Underline the words can be stressed to make the advice stronger.

1. You might want to think about what to wear.
2. But remember! Make sure it's a firm handshake to show that you are interested.
3. Arriving late is one thing you ought never to do.
4. You need to be aware of the pitfalls.

/tə'biːl /əvə/

Practise saying the sentences with a partner. Choose whether to add extra stress to the advice. When you are listening say how strong the advice is.

